Call for Papers: Sports Economics Special Issue of the New York Economic Review

Dear Colleagues,

To continue the longstanding tradition of scholarship in Sports Economics, the editorial board of the New York Economic Review is organizing a special issue for this field. We kindly welcome you to submit articles for consideration in the Sports Economics Special Issue of the New York Economic Review to be published in 2019. The NYER is proud to be on Cabell's Whitelist, the Australian Business Deans Council Journal Quality List, and is indexed with EconLit and Ebsco.

The New York State Economics Association is proud to welcome Dr. Frank Stephenson, Henry Gund Professor of Economics at Berry College, as Guest Editor for the Special Issue. Dr. Stephenson will be supported by Dr. Andrew Weinbach, Professor of Economics at Coastal Carolina University, as Guest Associate Editor, as well as by the NYER editorial board.

Brief formatting requirements for the NYER can be found at <http://bit.ly/nyerformat>. To submit a manuscript for consideration, please send an email by August 1, 2018 to david.vitt@farmingdale.edu with "NYER Sports Econ Submission" in the subject line along with the manuscript. We are happy to consider articles in a .pdf or M.S. Word format, though authors are responsible for formatting all accepted articles to M.S. Word for publication.

Play Ball!

Sincerely,

David Vitt, Editor, Farmingdale State College

Brid Gleeson Hanna, Co-Editor, Rochester Institute of Technology

Cristian Sepulveda, Co-Editor, Farmingdale State College

Richard Weber, Co-Editor, Farmingdale State College
